

Shout out.....

Hello to all and I hope your season has started off well. For us, the season has begun with a bang as all of our teams are back on the pitch and team training is at a fevered rate already with teams beginning league and tournament play next week.

I want to take a minute and give a shout out to a few people and groups of people as we can often forget why we do what we do. In a business like ours, it is all too often seen that it becomes about the trainers and therapists and not about whom it should be about, you the players and families.

First and foremost, I want to thank you as players for choosing us to be a part of your athletic development and path. You give your time and commit to getting up early and staying as long as it takes to sweat and grunt your way through workouts that others shy away from. Your smiles and “thanks coach” mean more than you know, and I can speak on behalf of our staff means the world to us. We look forward to being a part of your walk as an athlete throughout the season and look forward to seeing you again next summer. I want to stress that you are now a part of our family and that means being able to reach out for help during the season and lean on us for support and guidance whenever you need.

Thank you to all the parents and guardians that made the financial and time commitment to make sure your athlete attended our sessions this summer. You are the decision makers and we understand the time and financial considerations that go into trusting us to work with your athlete. The positive feedback that we received was heartwarming to say the least and I cannot thank you enough for the belief and trust that you instill in us by having your child work with us. I am forever grateful. You are also a part of our “family circle” and we are here for you if needed.

Finally, I want to thank my staff, my rocks. It is an honor and a privilege to have you as part of my team and in some cases, as in the case of some of our support staff now going off to physical therapy school but be a part of your growth. My job, my passion is driven not only by the athletes that I have the pleasure of working with and on, but by your thirst to be a part of something different and exciting. Thank you for coming in early, setting up and breakdown sessions, helping to clean and manage the day to day operations and assist me in our daily trainings. If not for you, all of what we do and the reasons for why we do them would be nothing.

Keep working hard and have the mindset to succeed...until next time.
